Eligible expenses must be submitted for reimbursement within one year of incurring the expense and generally include health care expenses that are not covered, or only partly covered, by your health plans or, if you're married, by your spouse's health plans. Some of the expenses you can claim are:

Deductibles and co-payments under medical, dental, and prescription drug plans; Expenses for medical services or supplies not covered by your plans (for example, many plans do not cover routine physical or well-child care); Vision care expenses, including eye exams, eyeglasses, as prescribed by your doctor, and materials and equipment needed for using the eyeglasses such as eyeglass cleaner, contact lenses and contact lens supplies; Lasik, Laser eye surgery and Radial keratotomy; Hearing care expenses, including hearing exams and hearing aids; Expenses in excess of medical or dental plan limits (for example, orthodontic expenses greater than the limit set by your dental plan); Transportation expenses related to medical care; Nursing services not covered by your medical plan; Wheelchairs and crutches; Capital expenses for a personal residence to accommodate a disabled condition less the increase in your property value; Pregnancy test (over the counter); Certain over the counter drugs; Over the counter reading glasses when accompanied by a prescription; Smoking cessation program; Weight loss program when it is prescribed by your doctor for a specific diagnosis; Health related insurance premiums – e.g. dental insurance, vision insurance, health insurance, Medicare supplements, Medicare Part B, long-term care insurance.

Expenses that are not Eligible

Most cosmetic surgery; Health club dues; Electrolysis; Over the counter vitamins, even when prescribed by a physician; Dietary supplements; Teeth whitening products; Life insurance premiums; or expenses not incurred within one year at the time of filing.

For expenses that are not listed you can refer to IRS Code Section 213 for more complete information or contact Security Benefit at 1-866-747-3416.
